

Once a week participation in sport

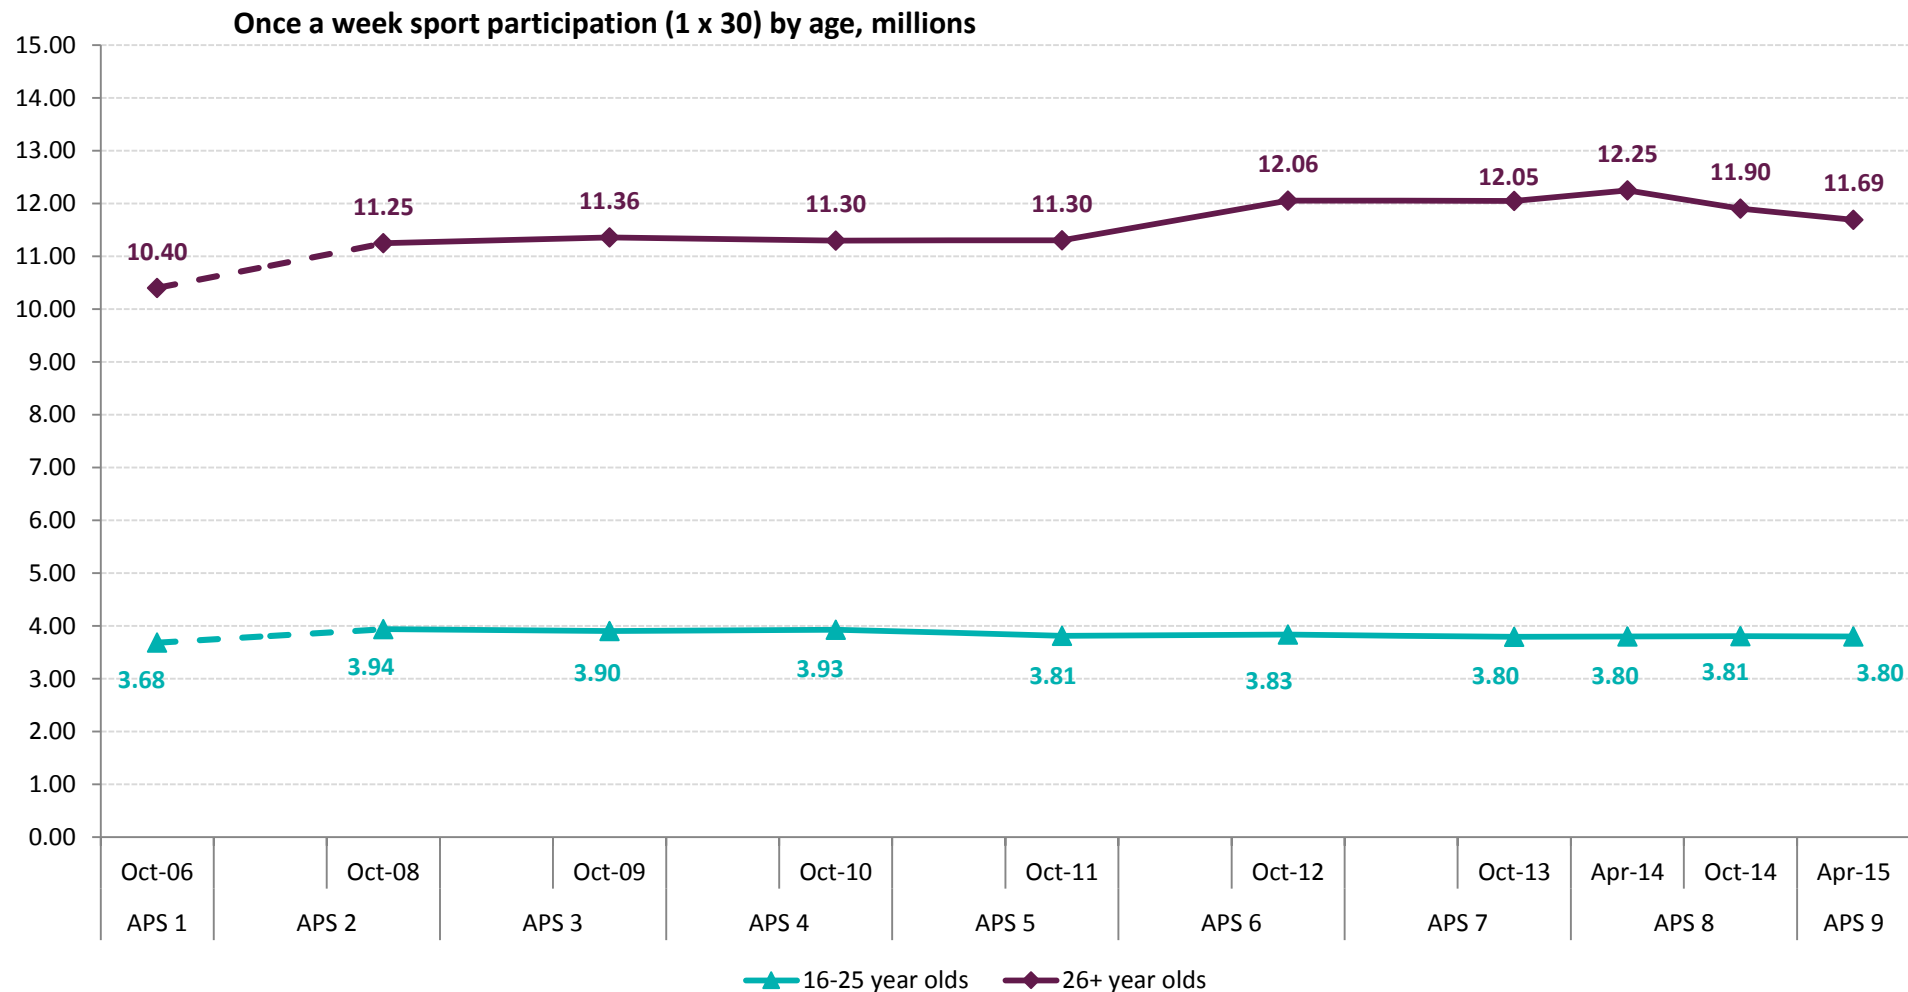

APS9Q2
(Apr 2014–Apr 2015)

15.49m adults (16+ yrs) are regularly playing sport in England

Source: Sport England's Active People results for the 12 months to the period shown on the chart. Dotted line showed between APS1 and APS2 where there was no data collection % shows change in the rate of participation between dates shown, arrow shows if this change is statistically significant

3.8m young people (16-25yrs) and 11.69m adults (26+yrs) play sport weekly in England

Source: Sport England's Active People results for the 12 months to the period shown on the chart. Dotted line showed between APS1 and APS2 where there was no data collection

1.56 million disabled people (16+ yrs) are playing sport weekly in England

Source: Sport England's Active People results for the 12 months to the period shown on the chart. Dotted line showed between APS1 and APS2 where there was no data collection on LTLID means Long term limiting illness or disability

Gender: 8.63 million men (16+ yrs) and 6.86 million women (16+ yrs) are playing sport weekly in England

Once a week sport participation (1 x 30) by gender, millions

Source: Sport England's Active People results for the 12 months to the period shown on the chart. Dotted line showed between APS1 and APS2 where there was no data collection

Differences in participation are at their greatest amongst 16-40 year olds

Changes in participation in sport (once a week)

Participant numbers have grown faster amongst the 26+ age group. Within this age group, male participation has grown more than female participation.

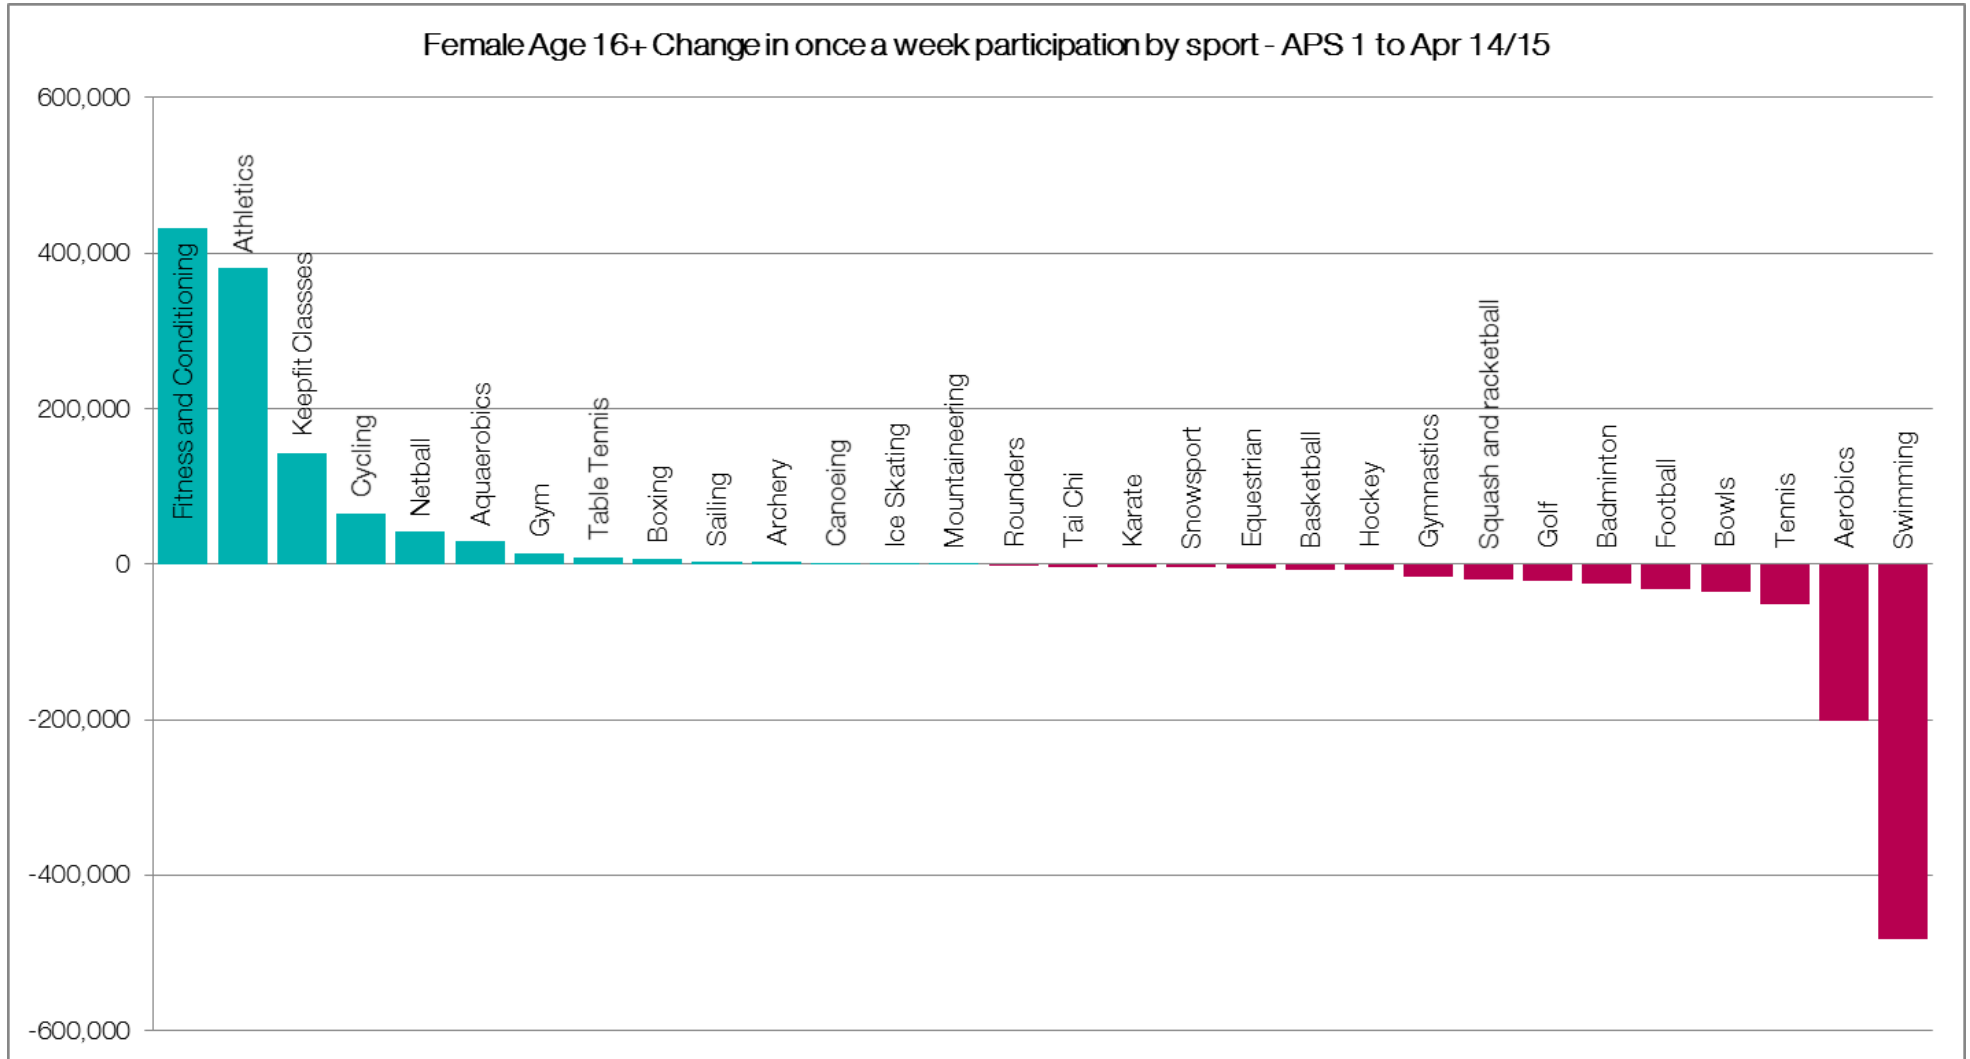

There are marked gender differences in the popularity of some sports

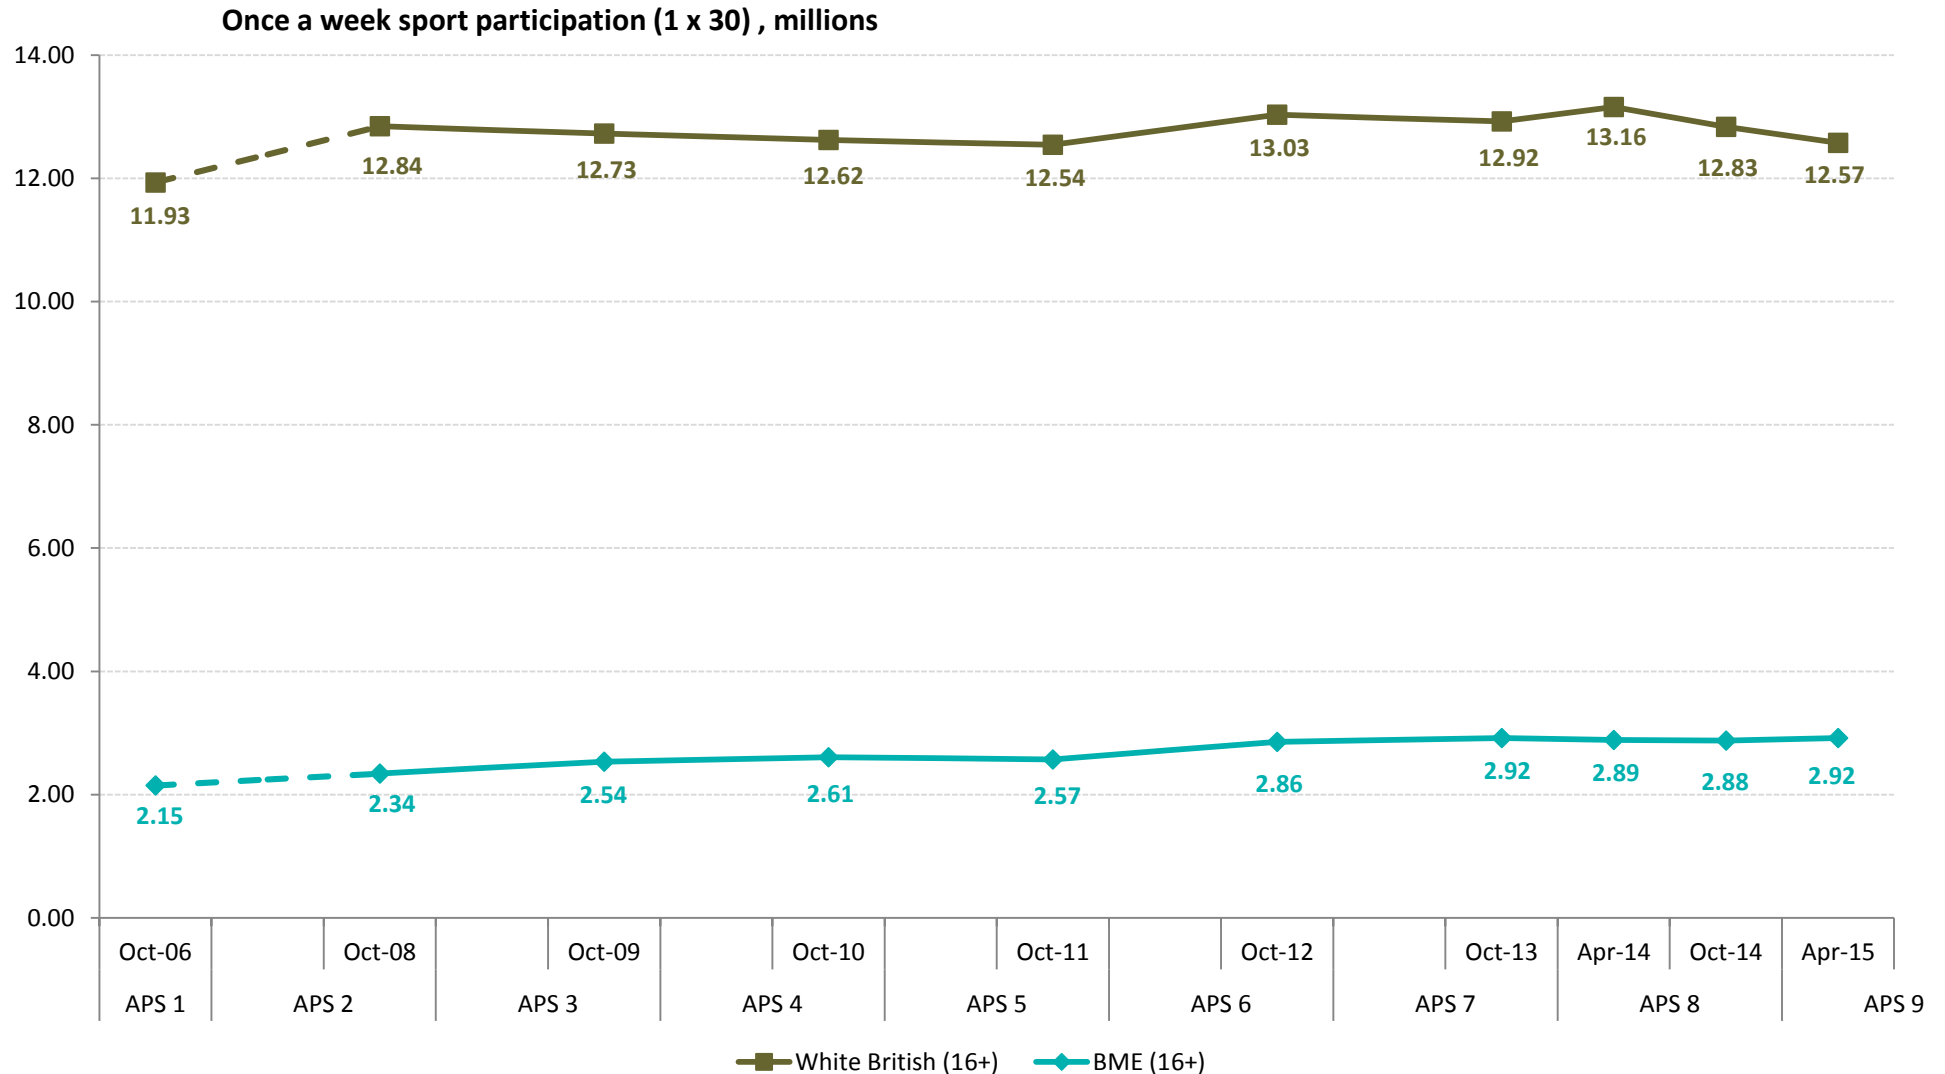

Once a week sport participation (1x30), key sports by gender

The popularity of different sports has changed over time

Ethnicity: 2.92 million of BME origin (16+yrs) are playing sport weekly in England

Source: Sport England's Active People results for the 12 months to the period shown on the chart. Between APS1 and APS2 there was no data collection